

The first wedding ceremony performed by a magistrate in Newmarket was held last Friday, June 1, at the new council chambers in the town hall. Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake performed the ceremony when Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Brown, Toronto, were married. It was the second ceremony which Magistrate Hollinrake has performed; above, the magistrate and some of the relatives look on as the bride and groom sign the register. The groom's father, Mr. Chas. Brown, made a special trip from Edinburgh, Scotland, to attend the ceremony. Era and Express photo.

A CRASH EVERY WEEK

Yonge, Townline Corner Accident Trap

The intersection of Yonge St. and townline has become one of the most hazardous corners in the district. A conservative estimate of accidents there is one a week, with the number on the increase as summer traffic volume grows.

Most of the accidents occur when drivers attempt to turn off Yonge St. onto the townline, or attempt to enter Yonge St. from the town line. There is comparatively less through traffic. Most drivers using the townline as a route into or from Newmarket and the east shore Lake Simcoe roads.

A narrow highway, a hill to the south which limits vision, and grades which encourage high rates of speed are all contributing factors. More recently the heavy Sunday night traffic congestion on Yonge St. has been a contributing factor.

At present, there is talk of widening Yonge St. and the county, in its turn, has discussed the widening of the townline at the corner. The county cannot act, however, until the provincial department of highways makes up its mind, and there has been no indication of a final decision from them.

Only other outlet from Newmarket to Yonge St. is on Eagle St. which in the summer months, is heavily used. The townline was comparatively little used until it was paved but since then, according to residents along the road, traffic has increased in volume two or three times, and a bus service uses it as well.

Suggestions for making the corner safer have included the installation of traffic lights, but it is pointed out, lights would only increase the existing congestion on Yonge St.

Institutes, Pioneers Share Annual Picnic At Temple June 16

The York Pioneer and Historical Society and York County Women's Institutes will have their first combined picnic at the Sharon Temple grounds on June 16. The decision to share the picnic arose out of a fresh emphasis being placed on local history by the Institutes. The combined picnic, it is hoped, will mark the beginning of a close collaboration between the two groups to encourage a greater interest in the preservation of local historical sites and the promotion of a wider interest in local history.

A highlight of the meeting will be the address of Mrs. F. E. Davis, Derbyshire, England, who will bring greetings from the Women's Institutes of England, Wales and the Channel Islands. Another speaker of distinction is Miss Anna Templeton, St. Johns, Newfoundland, who will bring greetings from the Jubilee Guild of Newfoundland and Labrador.

A full program has been arranged, reflecting both the interests of the Women's Institutes and the Historical Society. Greetings will be brought from the county council, the township and the department of agriculture. Major J. C. Boylen, president, York Pioneer and Historical Society, will give the address of welcome. Miss Anna Lewis, director, Women's Institute branch, will speak on the challenge to preserve and develop our culture as represented by

MOUNT ALBERT MAN AWARDED $9,000 THROUGH ACCIDENT

An assize court jury has given John H. Stevens, Mount Albert, a judgment for $9,000 after the court action against Stanley McNamara, 50, Willowdale, whose car hit the Stevens car and killed Mr. Stevens' son, Victor, 18, on March 11, 1950.

McNamara was sentenced to two years in the reformatory after he was tried for motor manslaughter. Mr. Stevens, who was cut over the eye, suffers from double vision, was awarded $7,734 damages and was also awarded $1,269 in the death of his son.

'Clean Up Town', Free Collection Of Garden Trash, Yard Rubbish

For the third consecutive year the Newmarket Horticultural Society is sponsoring a clean-up week in town as part of the society's civic improvement program. June 11 to 16 is clean-up week for 1951.

Special pick-ups of garden refuse and trash (not regular garbage or ashes) will be made on the east side of town on Tuesday, June 12, and on the west side of town on Thursday, June 14. On both nights, two trucks manned by volunteer members of the Society will handle the pick-ups from 6.30 to 10.30 p.m.

Residents are asked to co-operate by having their gardens tidied prior to these dates with the rubbish piled at the curb in readiness for the Society's collection. As the time is limited to two evenings and as those who are volunteering their time to man the trucks have gardens of their own which require their attention, it is important that the collection proceed with no delays.

This annual clean-up week is a part of the Society's program to create, stimulate and retain interest in beautiful gardens and the general improvement of Newmarket. A clean town is an attractive town. Help beautify Newmarket through personal pride in the individual properties.

NORTH YORK'S DAY AURORA SHOW SATURDAY, JUNE 9

One of North York's outstanding annual events will again be in evidence on Saturday, June 9, when the Aurora Horse Show will attract visitors from all parts of the countryside. Last year witnessed a record entry in all departments, and it is learned that there is every prospect of a new record being set at Saturday's exposition.

It is 28 years ago since the Aurora Horse Show was inaugurated, and through the years entries in the various classes have increased and popular enthusiasm has proportionately grown.

Besides the attractions of the exhibits and the various competitions in the horse rings, there are many other features likely to interest the large number of visitors for whom a hearty welcome is waiting.

Among these are the Ladies' section, which includes exposition of home cooking and a variety of arts and crafts.

FRANK DOANE OBSERVES BIRTHDAY WITH DAY IN GARDEN

Frank S. Doane celebrated his 80th birthday on Friday by getting out bright and early for a day's work in the garden. Mr. Doane lives with his daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Hendricks, on Yonge St. just south of Eagle St. A life-long resident of this district, Mr. Doane was remembered by almost a hundred friends and neighbors on Saturday. Friday night, 19 members of the family were present for a birthday dinner.

Among those present was a son, Walter, an R.C.M.P. constable from Milestone, Sask., and his wife and family.

DANCING CLASSES TO REVIEW WORK OF YEAR AT HALL

A review of the year's work by members of the dancing classes taught by Mrs. Betty Gordon will be presented in the Newmarket town hall on Friday, June 15. The classes were sponsored by the Newmarket Recreation Commission.

The members of the classes, ranging in age from 3 to 13 years, will present a variety of dances and drills. The children are wearing costumes made by their mothers.

The recital begins at 8.15 p.m. and because of the limited accommodation in the town hall, only those with tickets will be allowed to enter. Tickets may be had from members of the classes.

Sec. Aid From Councils For Pound, Catcher

The North York Humane Society met with several representatives from district municipal councils on Wednesday night with a proposal to control dogs running at large. The society will provide an inspector, shelter, and truck and will be financed by grants from the municipalities and contributions from the society.

Loose dogs have been a major nuisance in most municipalities. The cost of their control, however, is more than any one municipality cares to spend. In recent months, there have been several meetings, among district councils in an effort to arrive at an answer together.

The Society's offer is the first concrete solution and received a warm response.

Present at the meeting, held in Aurora, were representatives from Richmond Hill, Aurora, Vaughan and Newmarket councils. Markham, while not represented, was said to be interested.

The Society's proposal included tentative costs of operation and tentative grants required from each council. The Society itself will contribute $2,000 towards the work.

"It was an enthusiastic meeting," said Mrs. Marie Askew, president of the society. "We have great hopes that the councils will join us in this program."

She stressed, however, that if the councils were unwilling to go ahead with the society, that the society would undertake the job itself to the extent of its facilities.

The society's proposals were presented by Rev. Christopher Loat, provincial general secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Whole System Of School Exams Needs Revision - Not Hope, Pupil

Recently, a manuscript was handed to us by a Miss Anne Bodley of Pefferlaw on the subject of school examinations. The essay seemed so timely, and so truthful, that we decided to pass it on to you. Miss Bodley is well known for her youth work, and for essays of this nature, which appear periodically in a Canadian magazine. Her essay is entitled "Why Exams?"

She writes: "Exams, as I see them, are one of the greatest obstacles in a pupil's life at school. We have them to test his skill and knowledge, but do they?"

"Perhaps from the teacher's standpoint they are the fairest way of testing a pupil's knowledge, but I think that the pupils would rather have monthly tests on the work recently covered, and take a mark from the total marks made. For some pupils exams come easy and they do not become riled. Others do, and forget what they have studied, then 'bingo' there goes their mark."

"On these monthly tests which of course the pupil would not have to know were coming, each pupil would be given an equal chance, and would not become as nervous as he often does during the larger examinations."

50th ANNIVERSARY

Members of the family held a surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. John T. Winters, Newmarket, at the King George Hotel, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. Winters, at 71, is still working at the Office Specialty where he has been employed for 45 years. In the evening there was a reception at the home of a son, Ernest, at which 40 were present. The couple was presented with a gift of a new $50 bill wrapped in gold.

SEEK LAKE PARK

A meeting of the Toronto and York Planning Board and Advisory Committee has suggested that York county purchase 500 acres of land on the south shore of Lake Simcoe for a park and picnic grounds.

Members of the committees said that private property is taking up so much area on the shore that there would be no room for picnics and public fishing in the future as far north as Beaverton.

The property which was suggested is part of a large estate up for sale and has a large lake frontage. It would cost over $100,000. Unless some property is bought by the county, there will be no room left for people who do not own cottages, said one member.

LAKE BUSINESSMEN SEEK TO IMPROVE RESORT AREA

In an effort to encourage development along the south and east shores of Lake Simcoe in the resort areas, businessmen there have formed an association. At a meeting this week, Al. Argyle was elected president and Ray Davies, secretary.

The association has petitioned local councils to take stronger action against the repetition of last year's invasion of the lake area by hoodlums from Toronto. They also plan to seek the erection of three large signs at the three major entries into the lake area, welcoming tourists and vacationers.

A street dance is being planned for late in June.

The group also asked that signs be erected wherever the police are operating speed traps.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL

A Sunday school for the children in the camp area will open in the former camp chapel, now the R.C.A.F. Association hall, this coming Sunday at 3 p.m. The school will be directed by Rev. L. Lake under the auspices of the Independent Baptist Churches of Canada, and is for the convenience of residents in the east side of town.

There is no money to carry on civil defence among municipalities according to authorities in Newmarket. They blame the federal government. It had been proposed that the three levels of government, municipal, provincial and federal, take part in civil defence organization. At present everyone is looking to "the next government up" for money.

Organization and citizens with technical knowledge in Newmarket have expressed a desire publicly and privately in the last six months to take part in training and organization.

A few months ago, it was announced that a framework for a master city and county organization would be set up. This has been done and Newmarket has appointed town engineer Denne Bosworth as defence co-ordinator and Major T. M. Ewing to work with him.

According to Mr. Bosworth and Reeve Arthur D. Evans, a civil defence framework has been set up in the York county area with co-ordinators appointed in each municipality. But there are no funds to work with. A national policy to govern all civil defence is lacking as well.

Mr. Bosworth said this week that there is no central authority to give proper defence instructions so that all municipalities can work together. "There is probably plenty of criticism because nothing has been done about civil defence but there is no use giving out public instructions now if they will be changed later; the confusion would make it difficult in co-operating with other defence areas," he said.

Reeve Evans said, "Nobody has any idea as to what could happen in these times. There is a need for civil defence." At the mayors and reeves convention at Owen

The Salvation Army Red Shield campaign went over its objective by nearly $300 in Newmarket. According to Murray Roberts, chairman of the campaign, the amount raised in the campaign which ended May 27 was $2,389.79. The objective was $2,100.

The campaign chairman expressed thanks to the people who worked on the campaign and all those who contributed to the Salvation Army drive for funds.

See 'Rubber Stamping' Over As Frost Pledges Grant System Probe

Biggest objection of municipalities to provincial grants has been that the province imposes restricting conditions on their expenditures. In both Newmarket and Aurora councils, and in the townships, this objection is being heard with increasing frequency.

"We are becoming rubber stamps for provincial policies," the cry is heard.

There appears to be some hope that these objections will be met. At the meeting of the Ontario Mayors and Reeves Association last weekend, Premier Frost announced plans for a committee to review this, and all other problems arising between municipalities and the province.

"I am sympathetic to the representatives of the municipalities that there is a need for free and unalloyed grants in lieu of taxing powers," he said.

At the present time, provincial grants of one form or another make up approximately one-third of Newmarket revenues. These grants are made in almost every department of municipal administration. The grants are made, however, according to a wide variety of conditions which the municipality must observe. Frequently, a condition of receiving a grant is that the town spend a similar amount, or a variety of percentages of the amount of grant before it can be paid.

Municipal councillors charge that such a practice encourages unnecessary spending by the municipalities.

OPPORTUNITY SALE HELPS SAFETY DRIVE

A successful Opportunity Sale, the proceeds of which will help finance the Scotchlie-a-bike campaign being sponsored by the Newmarket Home and School Association was held by the group on Tuesday, May 29. In charge were Mrs. Bert Morrison and Mrs. Stewart Beare.

It is planned that the bikes registered at the elementary schools will receive the silver and red safety-tape during the week of June 18. Those who can, are requested to pay 25 cents for each bike.

The association wishes to thank those who contributed articles for the sale as well as those who patronized it.

BUYS TRUCK FIRM

Boyd's Transport has been purchased by James Walker, formerly from Toronto. The business handles general freight between Mount Albert, Newmarket and Toronto. At present, the service is working out of Harold Gordon's garage on Davis Dr. west.

A former Newmarket man, E. A. Kirk, is going into business with a freight service on the Yukon and Porcupine rivers. Retired from the R.C.M.P. after 25 years, Mr. Kirk is the son of the late Sgt. Tom Kirk who is every year remembered by the annual "Tom Kirk Night" for children at the arena.

The Dawson News, whose masthead carries the proud boast of being the "British Empire's Farthest North Newspaper", reports that "During the past winter, the former Arctic mountie has been building a power launch in Dawson for his projected freight service."

"During Cpl. Kirk's service with the R.C.M.P. in the Arctic, he gained wide knowledge of the problems of that district and his duties enabled him to gain valuable experience in navigating the smaller rivers, as well as the Yukon, with power craft. All told, he has spent 14 seasons on the Yukon and Porcupine Rivers and seven years on the MacKenzie. Such experience he believes, enables him to promise satisfactory and capable service in his new freight venture."

Mr. Kirk's mother now lives in Toronto.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

One of the big difficulties of publishing a weekly newspaper is the length of time between issues. Weekly editors learn to allow for this time-lag but occasionally, when warned up over a public issue, they lean back and fire with both barrels without regard for the consequences.

That is what we did last week on the subject of dusty roads. We had been out the Friday before delivering papers, and then again on Sunday. Some of the roads we travelled over then were so dusty that you couldn't see a car length in front. We were properly irritated and the result was the editorial we wrote on the weekend about the condition of the roads.

We weren't out again until last Thursday and then we found that of the roads we complained about, some at least had been treated and the dust laid, before the paper was published. Well, we're sorry if some of the road superintendents feel they have been unjustly treated. But when we wrote the editorial, those roads were hazardous to the driver and a nuisance to those living beside them, and they should have been given preferential treatment.

We have heard from one of Newmarket's innocents abroad but his postcard leaves some doubt about his activities. Either he has forgotten his high school French or else he is having a high old time. Bill Such in the V.L.A. office in Newmarket writes from Paris on a postcard properly postmarked and with a picture of the Eiffel Tower on it. The message reads:

"Bon jour. Tres bien. Wee. Oo-la-la."

We go along with Bill for the first two sentences, roughly translating them as: "Good day. All's well." We would even accept that last phrase, that "Oo-la-la", as a burst of Gallic spirits which one naturally expects of visitors to Paris in May. But we hesitate about this "Wee". What does it mean? Has Bill forgotten his French? Did he intend to say "Oui", pronounced the same and meaning (free translation) "I am enjoying myself". Or did he simply mean "wee" as written, the English equivalent of "I am REALLY enjoying myself."

Both translations are acceptable from a visitor to Paris in May, the choice resting only with the mood and spirit of the visitor. We must ask Bill about it when he returns home.

Reid Atkinson at Atkinson's Drug Store had an interesting visitor on Monday afternoon around 3 p.m., in the middle of the coffee and tea hour. Conversation was stilled as a sparrow flew in the front door, coursed the length of the store and came to rest behind the counter.

Probably came in to endorse Reid's birdseed.

THURSDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF JUNE, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

YONGE ST. A DISGRACE

There was an accident on Yonge St. on Sunday night and traffic was held up for four miles. The accident occurred just south of the townline. There was another accident on Saturday night on the townline and Yonge St. There was a second minor accident at the same time when an oncoming car skidded into another car which was held up by the accident.

These are the kind of accidents to be expected on a narrow stretch of highway into which, on a Sunday night, is funnelled a large part of the homeward bound weekend traffic. Although it must be one of the most heavily used highways in Ontario, Yonge St. north of Eagle St. is only a two-lane highway, a situation which is nothing short of a disgrace.

There is talk that this section of the highway is going to be widened; the surveyors were at work a few weeks ago. But the job, it is said, will not be done for two years or so. It will be another year before the Toronto-Barrie route is fully usable. In the meantime, there will be traffic tie-ups and accidents on Yonge St. in ever increasing numbers.

It was no doubt intended for the Toronto-Barrie highway to relieve the congestion on Yonge St. But that highway has been a long time building. Shortages of one sort or another have delayed completion. Under the circumstances, there was no excuse for delaying work on Yonge St. It is expected that Yonge St. will still be a heavily used highway even when the new highway is open. Perhaps the widening plans are intended for this eventuality. If so, how short-sighted. A widened Yonge St. is needed now, while the Toronto-Barrie highway is being built, not in the future.

MASSEY REPORT SIDELIGHT

The Massey Commission, reporting on the state of culture in Canada, recommended that the licensing of private stations be removed from the authority of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, a recommendation which should find general agreement with all Canadians.

We commented here some weeks ago about the practice of giving commissions or other government appointed bodies the authority of judges on questions of their administration. It is a high-handed practice to have the CBC license stations with which it is nominally competing.

But while this recommendation touched upon a serious issue in the practice of government, another recommendation, while of comparative importance, has evoked a highly curious reaction from private broadcasters. The commission recommended that the development of television remain a CBC undertaking. A statement from the private radio stations protested this. Why, the private broadcasters asked, should the taxpayer be charged the cost of this expensive development when the private broadcasting industry is prepared to do it for free?

If there were no other considerations involved, such a statement would still evoke nothing but surprise and disbelief. It is so frequently the other way around. Generally it is a request for the government to spend the taxpayers' dollars. But here, private industry volunteers to assume the cost. Indeed, times would appear to be changing.

But wait. What is the price of such a saving? Private TV nets like those in the United States? No thank you. When TV comes to Canada, it will be worth a few cents to the taxpayer for something more than lady wrestlers and Milton Berle.

TOO MUCH ORGANIZATION

The milk producers in this district are talking of establishing a milk marketing agency because it is the only way they know by which to achieve their objectives of a fair return for their milk against the heretofore unbeatable combination of political interest and strong, city organizations. If they should adopt such a course, the producers will have to submit to certain compulsory requirements which are, traditionally, obnoxious to the independent farmer.

But, say they, there is no choice. It is the lesser of two evils.

That choice, the lesser of two evils, is being made everywhere in Canada today. The only way to combat the influence of one organization is, so it is argued, to organize a stronger group. The government encourages the practice, or at least, goes along with it by providing enabling legislation in one form or another.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

It is a vicious practice, one that is dangerous to our form of government.

Another example is the teachers. They have been ill-paid for years. They are only now beginning to be paid according to their importance in society, and this is coming about because they have organized themselves, and with the current teacher shortage, are sufficiently strong to make their weight felt on school boards. But in the process, the teachers have lost a good deal of prestige.

They, and the milk producers, and indeed, members of any organization which can exert a political or economic pressure, have no way of knowing if their organization will always use that influence to the good. There is quite adequate precedents to suggest that such authority will be abused.

We are not against any particular organization; we are opposed to all whose objective is to bring about certain advantages for its members by the application of pressure in any form. Such organizations, to be successful, require a submission of its members to the discipline of the organization. Such organizations, to be successful, frequently wrest their advantages at the expense of the public welfare.

There is the root of the issue. There was a time when government was concerned with public welfare only; not with the classes of the public. When the railmen went on strike last year, it was the public which suffered. When the dairy workers went on strike, it was the public which suffered. In varying degrees, it is the public which always pays the shot, in one form or another, when this organization or that is applying pressure.

It is not in the public welfare when there is government by pressure or concessions by individuals to pressure.

We know, as well as the next man, the arguments on behalf of organizations. The workers organized against the bosses because the bosses were organized against the workers. Or vice versa. The farmers organized against the buyers because the buyers have organized against the farmers. Or vice versa. The list is as long as your arm.

One interest, organizing for the promotion of matters dear to its heart, promotes a host of opposing organizations.

All of these organizations, eventually, make the seats of government their cockpits. Instead of government on behalf of the public welfare, we have government on behalf of the special interest. Some of that government is good; some of it is bad. The danger is that such government could very easily become all bad.

No man is immune from corruption of power unless he is a saint, and there is a scarcity of saints in the world this day. No matter how well intentioned organizations may be, they are all subject to the same tendencies. They are all, one day, likely to confuse their purposes with divine commandment and bust the country wide open in the pursuit of those purposes.

Take the practice of licensing which is common to most organizations. There is nothing which is so successful in maintaining the authority of an organization than licensing. It is written in the union's closed shop agreement, in government sponsored marketing schemes for farmers, in accrediting processes of the professional groups.

Authority to license implies authority to refuse a license. What then? It becomes the choice of bowing to the organization or going out of business. In the old days, it was enough to obey the laws of the land; nowadays, it's the laws of the land plus the impositions of special interests.

It's a bad business. And the only alternative we have to offer is this: instead of organizing to battle it out with another organization, how about fighting to end organizations? Instead of being governed by special interest, let's get back to government for all the people. If politicians support special interests, throw them out. If an organization acts contrary to public interest, disband it.

The only difficulty is that to carry out such a program, the public would have to organize too. Well, we are already organized. We're all voters and our executive is the government. That should be the only organization we're concerned with. We have the means, so let's bring an end to this tying our political and economical life in knots for the benefit of this or that special interest.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

There is a musician in Toronto who is conducting some research on Chinese music, I see. He writes that the Chinese have a good chance of becoming the leaders in the world of music in the next century.

The musician is trying to find out something about the old Chinese scale. From what this correspondent understands, the old Chinese scale was forgotten. In fact it was on the way out around 150 B.C. According to those who know, there were a lot more notes in the ancient scale so that their music was much more subtle than ours.

You were never allowed to play some of those ancient instruments in China after you had been drinking or after you had worked up a sweat for any reason. That's because they were very delicate and subtle and nobody who had worked up a sweat was capable of being subtle.

It reminds me of a dog whistle I once had. You could blow it and never hear it yet your dog would come running to you. It must have been pretty subtle if you could call a dog without making any sound. But I guess it didn't compare to the Chinese musical instruments because you usually worked up a sweat blowing it.

Your favorite correspondent was greatly horrified at a certain Toronto daily newspaper's attitude toward a recent migration of little cuckoo birds last week.

Comparing the cuckoo with "mosquitoes, hordes of invading caterpillars, . . . budworm on the apple tree, cutworms in the garden," the report said that a Toronto zoological expert "came up with a new menace—cuckoos."

"They're swarming in to eat the caterpillars which other birds won't eat," said the expert.

Well what of it, I say. If fate has decreed that the cuckoo will come to eat up the caterpillars then we should accept it as a blessing. Think of all the poems which would not have been written had it not been for the cuckoo.

For instance the poet Lyle back in the 16th century ends his "Spring's Welcome" with "Hark how the jolly cuckoo 'Hark how the jolly cuckoo spring! 'Cuckoo' to welcome in the spring!"

Normally we have about 150 cuckoos in Toronto; today there are 500 and in the next few weeks they'll be swarming," said the expert. I don't like the intonations in this newspaper's report. You'd think that these little cuckoo birds represented some kind of a plague on the citizenry.

If some of the dead poets were alive they would tell the newspaper a thing or two. They would help me out, me a lonely voice crying in the wilderness of attitudes toward cuckoo birds. The newspaper would probably have so many letters to the editor from dead poets they would have to run an extra edition.

... considering the phenomena of cuckoos . . .

Another poem by James Shirley a little later than Lyle describes "the drowsy cuckoo and the humble-bee" in The Spring.

Slim Blighens wrote "Lo, the little lowly cuckoo cocks his much more subtle than ours. mering sun sedately settle under the undulating clouds. Bully the cuckoo!" And Slim Blighens isn't even dead yet!

So what if there are 500 cuckoos in Toronto? Maybe the migration of cuckoos will encourage a migration of poets to follow.

Then the artists might follow the poets and the musicians and we might even get the old Chinese scale back. Toronto might become another Greenfield Village or a Left Bank all on account of the cuckoo bird.

And why not? Toronto wants and has everything else in this generation so why should it not be a centre for poets and musicians and cuckoo birds?

Look on the bright side of things. There is always some good in caterpillars for instance. Look what they can lead to.

When do farmers get holidays?

We feel rather courageous to tackle this subject because maybe the mayor of Toronto doesn't approve of holidays for farmers. Maybe he thinks that if the farmer takes this further step towards living like other people do, and realizes what he has been missing, he won't be able to say any longer what the price of milk should be.

Why do people want holidays? Some want them because they want a rest. Some like to travel and see new sights. Others want to visit friends and relatives. And there are those who merely want to break away from the routine, be it just ever so little. Everybody, according to his or her make-up, has a different idea of what a holiday should be.

It is just when you are actually enjoying your holiday that you realize how much you really had to have it, how important it is to your own welfare. It is then that you realize how dead the routine of farm chores has become.

What a stimulus it is to drive through new countryside, see new faces, talk to strangers. And when the end of the holiday arrives, we are usually ready to go home and buckle down with fresh determination and outlook.

But when is the farmer to go on holidays? There is not much chance of it in the winter time.

In the spring, then, he tells his wife they'll go on their holidays in the early summer but there is a wet spring and seeding is late and everything gets behind—and there is no time for a holiday. It is postponed until —no holiday at all. The biggest obstacle a farmer must hurdle before he takes holidays is, we suppose lining up help while he is away. To leave everything for a week or ten days is hard on any farmer and more so for the dairy farmer. There is no change or let-up in milking.

We think that the solution is to organize a sort of travelling "work force". Let each farmer contribute so much a week towards it, just like insurance. Then let the group draw up a schedule of holidays and hire the men to do the work. The group could do the supervising in turn.

Each contributor could take his holidays and the group could supervise the work on his farm while he was gone. This could be done in turn and turn about system. The actual labor, of course, would be done by hired men, the members of the group simply keeping an eye on their absent neighbor's farm.

Then, we could all have a couple of weeks to forget prices and quotas, a wet spring and broken equipments, and even the Milk Control Board and the mayor of Toronto.

KIDD'S GARDEN

Those of us who were privileged to see Mr. and Mrs. Kidd's tulips on May 26 were indeed lucky for Sunday afternoon proved wet and showery. Of course there were intervals between showers but it threatened rain nearly all afternoon. I am truly sorry for those who were disappointed, for it was a marvellous sight! Not only the tulips but everything in that gorgeous garden!

You see pictures in magazines of famous gardens, but I am sure this most beautiful garden can compare with any of them! It is a large garden curving round, following the windings of that jolly little stream that flows under the granite bridge on Gorham St.—but in all that space I defy anyone to find a blessed weed.
No, not even one! And it is amazing how Mr. and Mrs. Kidd with only one helper, Mr. Bowman, can keep that garden in such apple pie order!

The beauty of it can't be described. Vistas keep opening out more beautiful the farther you go. You enter a narrow laneway between two dwelling houses, east of the bridge I just mentioned, then you turn east and south. Beyond the southern fence is a background of lovely trees, evergreen and elms and maples with tremendous willows grow all along the far bank of the stream, which comes over from Bogarttown.

You should stand just west of the little summer cottage where Mr. and Mrs. Kidd delight to stay, and look down through the lilac bushes, covered with bloom, and there down below the slope of the hill, curving round to the south fence, are rows and rows of tulips of every color—and it makes you think of nothing so much as a Persian rug, an Oriental carpet, the colors all blending so warmly and beautifully—in perfect symmetry, so even and straight.

As you walk along from the gate you see beautiful flowering shrubs and trees along the bank and that charming stream rippling along with lush green fields rising from the other side up to Hamilton St. And there are clumps of narcissus here and there and tulips—and, oh yes, some lovely yellow baby iris—oh, I can't begin to describe all the lovely things you'll see in that garden. On the left hand side of the path are flower beds reaching to the north fence, with shrubs hiding the houses on Gorham St. till you fancy you are miles away from the town.

The promise of these flower beds of later blooming intrigues you—delphiniums, peonies and all sorts. But there are still many blossoms there now—such beds of Crown Imperial and grape hyacinths; leopard's bone, that bright yellow daisy-like flower—and last and best, pansies. Oh, pansies everywhere smiling up at you from unexpected places, even a long row, all in full bloom, away over by the south fence. In front of the cottage is an "Al Fresco" fireplace and a picnic table—and you can see it is frequently used! Fancy sitting down to a meal cooked out-of-doors and eaten amid such delightful surroundings!

I wonder why we do not make more use of our own back yards—I've often tried to tell how enjoyable you can make it.
Mr. and Mrs. Kidd have found the secret, and I hope they live many more years to enjoy their beloved garden. We are indeed grateful that we are permitted to share its beauty like this—for few of us are capable of creating and caring for such a marvellous garden. Tulips are so magnificent yet so gay and cheerful and homey! They shine out in their beauty in stately garden or equally well in a cottage garden —and how we love them!

It means endless work to create a show of tulips like Mr. and Mrs. Kidd have, but they must get endless satisfaction as well, when they stand by the cottage and look down on the thousands of these same tulips all in full bloom and know that their hard work had accomplished such amazing results.

Ottawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

This week census-takers in North York and in every constituency in Canada started on the important task of taking the census. In North York, the job is in the charge of Peter Burt, Census Commissioner, and a staff of capable men and women in all parts of the riding and their work I am sure they will have the cheerful co-operation of all our citizens.

The increasingly complex and varied activities of a modern nation are becoming more and more dependent for their success upon reliable, accurate statistics. For that reason Canada's ninth decennial census takes on special importance. The mammoth undertaking is designed to gather information for purposes of business, social welfare, education, justice and political life.

Its uses are many. For example, it provides the basis for determining parliamentary representation and federal subsidies to the provinces. It furnishes data about the economic health of the nation; thus it can be a guide both to national financial policies and the activities of individual businesses. It shows social security needs of the country; thus statistics which indicate an aging population may be projected into the future to help estimate probable later costs of old age pension schemes.

No question is asked for the curiosity and all are on the questionnaire because they have some definite bearing on our social or economic life. All information is strictly confidential, every census taker being under oath not to reveal any information about anyone.

Increase in Postal Rates
This week parliament has been considering some revisions in Canada's postal act and opposition criticism centred mostly on the increase on postal rates for newspapers.

In these days of rising costs post office operation costs have increased tremendously. It is only common sense and good business that the postal service be kept on a paying basis. It is not intended that the post office should be a revenue producing department, but at least it should pay its way, especially in these days of heavy taxation.

Last year the post office had

MODERN FARMING
DEPENDS UPON
POWER EQUIPMENT

The ability of Canadian farmers to "deliver the goods" is due in a very large degree to their skill and eagerness in adapting modern mechanized equipment to their operations.

Now, more than ever before, farmers are looking to machines to help them overcome the scarcity and high cost of farm labor, to get the work done quickly and at low operating cost, and to maintain and increase production.

Through continuous research and engineering Massey-Harris has developed new and improved tractors, combines and power machines which prove helpful to users in establishing more efficient farm operation.

Increased driving visibility, pioneered by Studebaker in its earliest postwar cars, is carried on even more extensively in the 1951 models. One-piece windshields are now standard on all Champions and Commanders. The increased visibility provided by such windshields will make an important contribution to safer motoring. Also standard on most models are one-piece rear windows. Shown is the 1951 Champion 6-door Royal sedan.

Pickering Tops High School In Track, Field Contest

Over the course of a year, Fred Speer's Newmarket high school athletes find time to range themselves against their Pickering College opposites in practically every sport in season. This year for the first time, because of the switch of the Eckhardt Trophy and N.H.S. track meets to a springtime setting, the friendly hill-top rivals added a track and field meet to their list of competitions.

The dual-school meet was held on Tuesday and Thursday of last week. Pickering athletes flashed their best form in the senior sector, winning all but one of the nine-event program to pile up a substantial 66-33 advantage that bulked large in the final 152-112 tabulation. N.H.S. cut this edge to 57-42 in intermediate and showed their heels to the Collegians in junior with a 37-29 triumph.

Terry Sumner (Pickering College) turned in the best individual effort in senior with three firsts, in intermediate, Bert Kellock, fleet College sprinter, landed two firsts. Robert Dick collected three firsts in the junior events to spark that division.

Five Pickering school marks were shattered in 24-event program. Bob King set a new junior shot put mark and Terry Sumner heaved the discus 108' 3" for new senior record. All three 440 relay marks were topped in senior, intermediate and junior.

Results were:

SENIOR EVENTS
100 yds., Sumner (PC), O'Brien (PC), Hugo (NHS), 10.3 secs.; 220 yds., Sumner (PC), McBain (PC), Hugo (NHS), 24.6 secs.; 880 yds., Moffatt (PC), Underhill (PC), McCaffrey (NHS), 2 min. 27.7 secs.; Pole vault, Underhill (PC), Alger (PC), Tate (NHS), 8' 6"; high jump, Ames (PC), Storie

Present Athletic Awards At Home-School Meeting

The presentation of the awards for the Newmarket public schools' field and track meet were made by Francis Hollingsworth at the annual meeting of the Newmarket Home and School Association. The prizes are donated by the Association.

In introducing Mr. Hollingsworth, a member of the Stuart Scott teaching staff, the president, Mrs. Howard Morton, called attention to his great interest in children's sports.

"Much of the extra training in athletics which the youngsters are receiving is due to Mr. Hollingsworth's fine co-operation," she said, "as well as to the other teachers who give of their own time for these extra-curricular activities."

Mr. Hollingsworth said, "We want every boy and girl in our schools to have athletics. These who are receiving these medals tonight are just a little better than usual. For their leadership in their age groups they have won the 1950 championships." Mr. Hollingsworth called on the winners to accept their awards.

Those receiving the medals included: senior girls' champion, Marilyn Barker, Prince Charles; senior boys' champion, Donald Irwin, Alexander Muir; intermediate girls' champion, Linda Purcell, Stuart Scott; intermediate boys' champion, Garry Fairbairn, King George; junior girls' champion, Janet Macnab, Alexander Muir; and junior boys' champion, Garfield Crawford, King George. Marilyn Barker and Donald Irwin won the Hewitt and Bowser trophies for the outstanding boy and girl athlete in the Newmarket public schools for 1950. The awards are made by Dr. R. L. Hewitt and Frank Bowser to the most outstanding athletes on the field at the annual meet. They do not necessarily go to the senior champions, but to the boy and girl judged of superior standing for their class.

In the absence of Frank Bowser who was to have made the awards, the presentation of the two trophies was made by H. A. Jackson. Mr. Jackson called attention to the fact that Marilyn had won every event in which she had entered and Donald had won all but one. In it he placed second. The trophies were presented at the May meeting of the Home and School Association at Prince Charles school.

P.C. Takes N.H.S. 9-5 In Exhibition Tilt

Behind eight-hit clutch pitching from rookie Georgie Chase, Pickering College softballers defeated Newmarket high school 9-5 in an exhibition game at Pickering last Wednesday. The Collegians could thus lay claim to the mythical school league crown of this neck of the woods as last week they polished off Aurora high.

Pickering pushed across two in the first three in the third and two in the fourth to build up a 7-0 cushion. Then the N.H.S. sluggers went on active service, Bob Forhan's single and an error plating the goose egg cracker in the fifth. The N.H.S. punchers went active again in the sixth and with a double by Bruce Rogers ran their string to five runs. Pickering picked up speed again in the sixth with two runs as Bill Barter singled and Terry Sumner raced him home with a four master.

Bert Kellock, Bill Barter and Terry Sumner paced Pickering two hits each. Bob Dick and Bruce Rogers did the same for Fred Speer's schoolmen. Bob Forhan pitched for N.H.S., being nicked for 11 safeties.

Plan Warm Welcome At Mount For Local Girls

All is in readiness for a warm reception for Newmarket junior ladies' softball crew when it pays its first scheduled visit to Mount Albert Friday. Though long delayed in getting the house in order, Mount Albert, defending Lake Simcoe champion, is now ready for all comers.

At a recent get-together, Marguerite Green was named president and team captain. Kelly Case has taken on the coaching duties. Mrs. Gladys Rolling was selected as manager for another season. Ruth Simpson is secretary-treasurer. Transportation committee is Shirley Gibney and Jean Tolling. Publicity dispenser is Ida Bertolin.

"Quite a number of changes from last year's championship squad," reports Gladys Rolling, "but another good team to defend the laurels is in the making!"

PUPILS' RECITAL

To anyone who has ever taken music lessons, or taught music, the word "recital" conjures up a series of pictures or maybe I could more rightly say emotions for well do I remember the churned up feeling in my stomach, both as teacher and pupil, when confronted with one.

Palpitations of the heart, eyes that couldn't focus, a sense of delightful new clothes and a do or die determination, made for me, at any rate, a battleground of a recital. I said to the other half of the family and Mr. Hurrie last night that I thought children had gained in aplomb and social adjustment in these latter days, for the children of Friday night had delightful stage manners, and all looked as if they had come out of the proverbial handbox - due to what efforts of mothers one can only imagine!

But now, to get down to the serious aspect of the recital which was given by pupils of Gwen de Breigny, Herman Fowler, Norman Hurrie, Mae Patterson, Robert Pugh, John Willis and Alberta Wood, all members of the Newmarket branch of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association.

Mr. Pugh, in his opening remarks said that he hoped great things, musically, would come to music lovers from such an association and just such recitals as Friday night's, with its preview of budding talent.

The program is too long for me to mention everything specifically, so this will be general, with a few highlights.

The first ten numbers, vocal and instrumental, were by the following small folk: Mary Wesley, Nancy Davis, Billy Mills, Kerry Peters, Rosalie Collins, David Vanstone, Jeanine Paynter, who is steadily progressing, Mavis Houston, Donald Bate and Patricia Hall. If there is anything that pulls at one's heart-strings more than to see these small people, facing their mates and grown-ups, determined to do their part to make things a success, I have yet to find it.

They are doing something momentous in their world, and the way they do it and the reception they get, may mean much to them in the future. Last night attention and applause were faultless. Every child of them was a credit to their respective teachers. We could have wished to hear better throughout the program all the words of the little vocalists and I am sure by the next time we hear them, they will just open their mouths and let the words flow out! One little lad who sang had a million dollar smile that will take him far if he ever goes in for stage work.

The next nine numbers by Verne Hutchinson, Donald Jackson, Marian Wright, Judith Carter, Elizabeth Newroth, Edna Perks, June Pinder, and Joan Curtis, were a bit more advanced and showed that technical difficulties were being met and overcome, and that expression was creeping up and demanding attention - and getting it.

The teachers and parents of these children are starting them out on a road that is sometimes thorny and sometimes strewn with roses but it's always a road around whose bends are waiting things of surprise and delight that go far to compensate for the thorny hours of practice, and the sometimes hours of discouragement.

Music, like the sirens of old, cures its followers with the promise of even more wonderful things to come. So be of good cheer, little pilgrims on the road to music land.

Now I wish to speak of two people who lent color and radiance to the program. I speak of the violin selections by Joy Johnson Hardenden and the vocal solos of Alma Stephens. In to the children's program these came with an inspiration to the children to keep on and attain what these two artists had reached and let me say that the children gave them an attention which spoke for itself, for children can soon show like or dislike - and no nonsense about it!

Mrs. Hardenden had a most pleasing personality and she played three selections in a manner which delighted her audience and gave just the touch of difference which keeps a recital from monotony.

Alma Stephens looked lovely and sang with a purity of tone and truth of interpretation which makes instant appeal to ear and heart. One was only sorry - felt a touch of loss - when the last lovely note melted into the air.

In the second half of the program David McClure, John Galbraith, Elizabeth Newroth, Patricia Hall, Charlotte Morton, Margaret Willis, Beth Johnston, Marion Eves, Shirley Ann Forhan, Elizabeth Hearn, Jean Rose, Rodney West and Jim Sine took part and were well worth hearing. One thing which pleased Archie and me was the number of boys who took part. Music is a golden key that opens many doors as we grow older and the boy or girl who has it, is lucky indeed.

Rodney West and Verne Hutchinson were the only two boys we had ever heard play before and Rodney only on the cornet in the orchestra, we were delighted at their progress. Now we will watch those other boys and assess what music is doing for them for we will not lose track of them.

Beth Johnston we have watched grow from a child to the young lady who, since we last heard her play had developed the quality which goes into the making of a pianist. And everyone who reads this column knows what I think of Jean Rose's future. All those others, I want to hear again before I mention them individually.

I see the promise, which like flower buds will open with the sunshine of patience, hard work, co-operation with teachers, and a love for music. If the love for it is there, nothing can keep the bud from becoming the full blown rose of fulfillment. Every teacher taking part must have felt that they have given all incentive to young players to keep on in spite of difficulties; to conquer stiffness, to let their own personality creep into their playing to such an extent that their audience hears what they hear, and accompanies them into that lovely realm where we leave the commonplace for the realm where anything is possible and dreams come true. Thank you, teachers.

HASHMAN AWARD

Ortie's Homer Wins It

Naturally, with fielding gems, heavy slugging and several neat pitching efforts last week, your Hashman had to scan his notes with a magnifying glass to pick this week's winner. When a ball player does four things, all at once and for the first time, you just naturally pull up a chair and give a listen.

Laurie "Ortie" Thoms is the four-threat man we're thinking about, and that's the reason we've named him winner of Roxy theatre pass for this week.

Here's how he accomplished the trick. First, Ortie bungs out a base cleaver in the last of seventh to win the town league tussle Friday for Hoffmans 5-4. Secondly, it enables Hoffmans to open its diamond for the season on the right note. Fourthly, it's Ortie's first homer in softball.

Aside to those who ask: No, your Hashman isn't limiting the award to town league. It covers all leagues operating in North York and we hope to bring you the outstanding player or play of the week from week to week.

Senior Girls Win Opener

Nailing five of their nine hits for a four-run explosion in the third, Newmarket ladies opened their Barrie and district season on just the right note Thursday with a 5-3 win over Barrie Valley's.

Hester Clark, Coach VanZant's nominee, had the Valley's num-ber, allowing them five hits and single runs in first, sixth and seventh. What trouble did de-velop for Hester came from walks. Newmarket levelled off a first innings run recorded by Valley's as Lois Darrach tripled down the right field foul line and came home when Manager Court-ney's new recruit, Theresa "Ter-ry" Reid, scooted a dribbler out to the pitcher's mound that went on the books as an RBI infield out.

Then came the big doings. Af-ter Hester Clark went down swing- ing, Phil McInnis singled but was nipped at the plate try- ing to run it all the way on

Recall Eckhardt Trophy Memories

Three issues ago we dealt sum- marily with the outcome of the North York secondary schools track meet. We told you Aurora high had won the Eckhardt tro- phy for the third time in a row, to set a record and we discussed briefly some of the achievements that the boys and girls of '51 had made. That didn't satisfy our readers. Three signed communi- ques and two unsigned, plus a few telephone calls demanded we deal with the matter further.

We had never posed as an ex- pert, but apparently that's what we are supposed to be. For in- stance one correspondent quite frankly posed the question who was the greatest athlete ever to compete for the three district schools? That took a bit of thinking, a lot of reminiscing and some thumbing through the rec- ords. We finally decided that if we had to make a choice it would boil down to either the late Bruce Stiles, Aurora, or Bill Cripps, Newmarket.

Cripps was the first senior cham- pion of the district but none of his records survive the test of time. Nonetheless, Cripps won four event at the first meet in 1925 and so far as the actual rec- ords are concerned, bested them all in private efforts. We re- member lanky Bill as the goalie of Newmarket high soccer team, as a guy who could broad jump over 20' anytime he cared to try, and who ran as if the gremlins were behind him every time he wanted to go. Never knew what happened to Bill. For our mon- ey, he was a surefire Olympic prospect and destined to go places but we never heard of him after we left for university.

Stiles, who was killed overseas, was a bit removed from those days and of course when he com- peted all the faults that marred the first few years of competition

HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Your observer found himself mixed up in one of those arguments recently that can't be proved. Seems a chap whispers that the Hub is slipping back instead of forging ahead as a sporting metropolis.

Naturally, we're after him on this and try to convince him he's off his rocker. We're thankful, in a way, the aforesaid character didn't show his snout in the proximity of S.S. pastures Thurs- day—he could have called two strikes on us right there. It was the opener of the senior ladies' softball season, if you will recall, and terrific game too, by the way. No provision of any kind was made to keep the fans off the playing field.

After the contest, the visiting coach had some unpalatable re- marks to make on this situation and well he might. On two oc- casions, spectator interference brought about rubeisms and all this could have been avoided.

Incidentally, both teams landed in the same dish in this respect. The right fielders, and to a lesser extent, the opposite number in left had to negotiate an obstacle course in getting their work done. Bicycles were dropped, helter skelter, cars parked in right field and fans took up seats on the outfield proper. The same is true too of the town league contests.

Maybe we're taking an overly pessimistic view but one of these nights, a player is going to take a header and fracture an arm or a leg over an obstacle ish ever seen in the mile race in these parts.

If a faster mile is to be run we believe Aurora high has a lad who might just do the trick. We liked the form showed by tyro Don Morning this year and we string along with coach Frank Gregoire, Aurora, on his opinion that Morning has every- thing to break the record. Next year the meet will be at Aurora and it's to be hoped that the new track at the new school will be ready for the event, even if the school isn't ready for occu- pancy.

The powers that be have de- cided to revert next year to the fall for the Eckhardt trophy meet. All the schools found the spring season a bit trying what with cadets, exams and the gen- tle spring breezes. Among the present day crop of athletes, we think Ron Geddes, the ruling junior in North York and double record holder Jim Loblaw had excellent chances of breaking some of the existing marks. While his name doesn't appear in any of the inter-school records it's interesting to note that Bill Mun- dell, assistant recreation director at Aurora, well known hockeyist, holds several records at Aurora high which are better than the inter-school marks. These were made in war years when there were no inter-school meets. Doubtless more than one athlete of those days missed the boat. Too bad there's no competition for the lads and lassies during the vacation period.

Once upon a time, King, Las- Ray, Aurora, Markham, New- market fair and other centres in- cluded track and field on their program. We can recall the day when a veterans' field day at Aurora around 1923 featured Olympic athletes including George Goulding, Carl Mertens, Alex Ponton, Anthony Vince and others, and the late Tom Long- boat and Jim Corkery ran an abbreviated marathon that at- tracted thousands.

Do you remember when there was an attempt to form a Y.M.C.A. in North York and Stephen Hyles was track coach and Y director? Lots of fun in those days for the youngsters at Aurora town park and Newmar- ket fair grounds. There's no reason we can't have some com- petition right now. It only needs someone to "bell the cat" and as we look around and think of yesteryear and the wide and var- ied sports program that once ex- isted, compared to now, we can say how true, who will bell the cat?

Bell Stops Specialty 3-1 Hoffman Wins

Pete Neufeld's Office Special- ty ran into some terrific two- hit pitching from Morley Cook, Bell Telephone's mound wiz, in Monday's Town League tussle and that wrote finish to their budding win streak. Cook's two hitter gave the Bell a 3-1 win. It was the Bell's third win and dumped them into first slot in league race.

In the pitchers' duel, Cookie and John Shedlowich each fan- ned ten. Bell bunched its six hits with telling effect. Bill "Hot Shot" Johnston smashed through the middle as a starter, Don Smith whacked out a double, John McTavish singled and Mickey Smith punched out the first of his two hits to put the Bell up three and in the driver's seat in the initial round. Specialty lone run was of the un- earned variety as "Dint" Barber, making his first appearance, walked to start the fifth, stole second and advanced to the three-quarter pole on an over- throw and was home free on John Shedlowich's infield out.

John Hisey was the only Special- ists clubber to find Morley Cook, collecting both bingles, a fourth chapter single and sixth frame double.

SPECIALTY WINS

With an early 13-5 edge, Of- fice Specialty got its second win of the Town League campaign last Wednesday as they took Ray Smith's Sports and Cyclamen 17-12. Smitty's men showed im- proved form—sembling their 12 runs on 15 hits, five better than the Specialty sluggers could boast—off three Specialty twirl- ers. Starter Les Blunt gave way to John Hisey in the sixth and then John Shedlowich was wad- ed in from the outfield to halt a budding seventh innings Cycle- men rally.

Coach Ernie Miller used three sportshock flingers. Doug Bunn stuck it out under heavy Spec- ially fire for three, reliever Ross Newton working two and Ivan Bray mopping up in the sixth.

HOFFMAN WINS FIRST

Laurie Thoms' smash into right centre field in the last of the seventh with Fred Dillman on base gave Hoffman a 5-4 win over Town Atomies at the Hoff- man diamond Friday.

Here's the picture. Atomies lead 4-3. They get their margin with three runs in the first frame and an added starter in the fifth. Ross Eves tries to out- line Bill for a homer. Cliff Ward doub- VanZant's third pitch of the game les, Borden Blain singles to send Ward scampering home. Blain scores after moving up on Ivan Gibson's one base loopier into right. That gives them three runs.

Bill VanZant holds them until the fifth. Howie Peterman lashed out for a double and alpa over a base on a wild pitch and Cliff Ward sends his base run- ning mate across the dish with run four.

Hoffman counters with a first. innings run on Fred Dillman's double and Grant Blight's through the middle single. Hoff- man's are back knocking on Iv- an Gibson pitches in the fifth. Laurie Thoms strolling and suc- cessive singles by Grant Blight, Jack "Optimist" Hamilton and Murray McDonald socking two runs in the kitty to make it 4-3. Came the last of the seventh, Fred Dillman draws a pass. Or- tie Thoms pickles one he likes and runs it into a four sucker for the game-winning margin.

Court Enthusiasts At Park; Remembers Aurora Old Days; A Woman Of Conviction

Our attention has been drawn to the fine work that is being carried out by the tennis enthusiasts at the McMahon town park. "The girls especially deserve to be congratulated on the hard work they have done in clearing out the weeds and sweeping the courts," remarked our informant.

"They're sure doing a swell job. And the boys are putting up the fence that was knocked over by the wind. Members of the tennis club seem very keen this year," he added.

It is recalled that recreation director, Tom Dickson, told the Recreation Commission that he was confident the Aurora Tennis club would make a real comeback this year, and it looks as if his prophecy will be fulfilled. We hope this will be so, and that the Tennis Club in 1951 will bring back some of the prizes and recover its former glories.

Old Times in Aurora

We were very interested to hear that in his early youth Bert Morrison was, like Frank Teasdale, whom we gladly added to our "Know Your Merchants" list last week, an employee of that famous Aurora merchant, James Whimster. Mr. Morrison, in business in Newmarket, recalled a few good stories of his former employer, long since gone to his rest.

Mr. James Whimster had a store for 50 years in the premises on Yonge and Wellington, where the Ardill's have done business for over 20 years. The Ardill store, by the way, has recently undergone a process of face-lifting that has greatly added to its attractions.

Mr. Morrison has been in his present store since 1924, first as an employee, and for the past 14 years as owner.

His assistants, too, have long years of service with Bert Morrison: Austin Brammer has been with him for 16 years, and John West for 12 years.

Councillor Thelma Fielding

We had a note the other week on Councillor Thelma Fielding, in which we pointed out that she had already proved her worth as a member of council. Something we omitted to say then we will add now.

Mrs. Fielding will not only defend a losing cause, once convinced that she is right, but she retains complete equipoise when a majority of votes are cast against her. She comes up smiling in defeat as well as in victory. She is an excellent loser, and losing is a real test of calibre in public life.

We sometimes find ourselves strongly opposed to what Councillor Fielding advocates, but we salute her for the tenacity of her convictions.

Swimming Pool?

What has happened to the Aurora swimming pool project, which was launched with such high optimism at the beginning of the year? It looks as though it had faded out.

We are not blaming anybody. We were never convinced that there was any real demand for a swimming pool in Aurora. It would have cost a lot of money to install, and there would have followed the additional cost of providing patrol services. Money is not so easy to come by these days.

A Historic Coin

Curious things can happen when you are trying to make a home run. It is quite likely, however, that what happened to young Pat Davis the other day, when trying to make a home run, will not happen a second time. For while playing baseball on the public school playground the other day, Pat kicked up from the clay a coin of real historic interest.

This was an 1854 penny. Her father, Mr. Elwood Davis, brought Pat around so that she could show us her "find." We could understand Pat's excitement over her discovery. We are a little older than Pat, but we also were excited at sight of this historic penny piece, which had been subjected to a chemical cleaning process by her father to clear away its covering of congealed clay.

On one side of the coin there is the imprint of the Bank of Canada, and the two Horns of Plenty. The coin contains also a tomahawk and an anchor. There is a horseman wearing a royal crown. The horseman wields a sword, and is in a galloping posture.

It could be, we pointed out, that the horseman is none other than St. George in the act of slaying the dragon. But we do not have any knowledge of coins worth speaking of, and may be wrong in our interpretation of the symbols.

Readers May Help

We are writing from memory, but we believe British currency went out of usage in Canada about the year 1850, when the present decimal coinage was introduced, following the example of the United States.

But unless we are utterly mistaken, Pat's penny is a survival in part of the British coinage system. Canada in 1854 was a British colony, and Upper Canada, marked on the coin, was the forerunner of the province of Ontario. Fourteen years were

'KNOW YOUR MERCHANTS'

The popular feature 'Know Your Merchants' will be resumed next week.

still to elapse ere the Fathers of Confederation conferred to proclaim the Dominion of Canada.

We were grateful for a sight of Pat's coin. It could well be that she will now become increasingly historically minded as a result of her accidental discovery of a coin that has been buried in the clay - for how many years? That is a question none can answer. But perhaps some of our readers can tell us more about the coin itself, from our description of it.

The last time we wrote about a historical discovery was in the instance of the ornamented stone which was unearthed by the operations of a bulldozer on the property of Mr. Illyd Harris. The land where the bulldozer then operated is now a very beautiful piece of lawn adjoining Mr. Harris' home.

Civil Defence

From Mr. Ab Hulse, co-ordinator for civil defence, we learned some very interesting facts the other day. Mr. Hulse has attended two meetings of the York county civil defence committee. The committees are working slowly but surely in the process of establishing an overall plan.

The committees are concentrating on what is considered a potential enemy target area, running north to Steele's Corners from the waterfront, and east and west for approximately ten miles beyond the city limits. Those are initial developments.

Expert opinion inclines to the view that towns such as Aurora would be somewhat remote from bombing attacks. There would always, however, be the danger of stray bombs being released by an enemy anxious to get rid of its load in an effort to escape attacks from home defenders.

Mr. Hulse spoke with very great admiration of the fine job of work that is being done by Air-Vice Marshal Thomas Lawrence, director for York county and Toronto.

Aurora Legion

Turning to Legion matters, in which Mr. Hulse is so deeply interested, he reminded us of the boat at present on exhibition at the front of Jim Wilson's store. It is supplied with outboard motor. It and an electric ironer are to be drawn for on August 11.

Tickets for the draw are obtainable from the Wilson and Duffield stores as well as from members of the Legion. Single tickets cost 25 cents, or you may have a book of six tickets for $1.

We were not surprised to hear that Mr. Hulse has many engagements as a guest Legion speaker, taking him to many out of the way places. We have paid tribute in the past to Ab Hulse's oratorical gifts. He is certainly one of the best and most gracious extempore speakers we have heard in Canada. And with all this he is an extremely nice man. His abilities have not spoiled him. He has no airs nor affectations, but remains pleasingly modest.

Gifts of Colors

We learned also from Mr. Hulse that the Ladies Auxiliary and Legion Branch are donating a set of colors to the Aurora Public School cadet corps. One is a Union Jack and another is a school flag, with blue and gold lettering. These gifts will supply long-felt wants. Dedication services will be arranged for a date to be announced later.

The High School colors were donated by a former mayor of Aurora, the late J. M. Walton.

Sign at Trinity

We were glad to note that a sign has now been put up at Trinity Anglican church. We were surprised to see, on our first coming to Aurora, that there was no sign to indicate the presence of this famous old church, originated in 1838 by John Mosley, one of the original English settlers who founded the hamlet of Matchville, later Matchell's Corners, and, later still, Aurora.

We wrote an article on this strange omission. Our good friend, Victor Attridge, undertook to provide a sign as a gift to his church. It is a lovely piece of work, gold lettered by the famous lettering expert whom Aurorians know as "Andy". We need not add his surname; every one knows him!

Mr. Attridge is not, however, satisfied with the position of the sign, which, he argues rightly, should face three streets. It was erected while he was away in Florida.

We were in time to see Victor's lovely profusion of tulip blooms. He has a truly beautiful flower garden. Any Aurorian who has not seen it should step in and take a look at the graceful flower-beds, laid out to please the eye of an artist.

AURORA HORSE SHOW

On Saturday, June 9, the Aurora Agricultural Society will sponsor Aurora's 28th annual horse show, an event of first class importance to our town. Only good weather is needed to ensure a successful result to the labors of many months.

It would be true to say that as soon as one year's show is ended, the committees and officials responsible for the convening of this great annual local event are at work preparing for its successor. An enormous amount of anonymous labor is represented in each year's shows.

"The purpose of this show," states its sponsors, "is to promote Fellowship, Sportsmanship and Horsemanship at their finest". These objectives, successfully carried through, have made the Aurora Horse Show something to look forward to each year on the part of participants and spectators alike.

While the horse show itself will begin on Saturday at 11 a.m., the midway will be open on Friday, and this will prove a great attraction both to the older and the younger generation. A great variety of entertainment will be provided.

Recalling as we do the splendid exposition in the high school auditorium last year, in the ladies' home cooking section, and in the arts and crafts, we shall be surprised if the number of patrons this year does not far exceed that of last year. This exposition is a wonderful proof of the variety of home skills.

We trust that this year's Aurora Horse Show will attract record numbers. It is a truly great event in the life of this community, deserving of the fullest public support.

THE NEED FOR NAMES

We suggest to the publicity committee of the town council, whose members are Reeve Cook and Councillors Corbett and Jones, the urgent need for setting up an adequate number of signs bearing the names of Aurora's streets. The present number of such signs are totally inadequate.

We know of the experience of a man who had an appointment with an old-time resident on Harrison Ave. He related how he asked about a dozen people of varying ages to direct him to the address he was looking for, and not one of them could tell him what he wanted to know. There is at the west entrance to Harrison a small indicator bearing its name, but none at the east end.

What is true of Harrison Ave. is also true of the majority of streets in Aurora. The signs are altogether insufficient. We do not imagine that the expense would be considerable in providing Aurora streets with their due need of names, and we hope the publicity committee of council will give this matter its consideration.

What is true of Aurora is also true of a great many of the lovely village through which the traveller passes on a motor tour of the surrounding countryside. It should not be necessary for a motorist to get out of a car to ask for the name of a village which evokes admiration. Such enquiries are often met with derisive looks from those from whom information is sought. They seem to think that everyone should know the name of their village.

It would be immensely interesting, and also educative, if local councils would see to the naming of the villages within their jurisdiction. To see the name posted up of a lovely village increases its attraction, apart from adding to one's geographical knowledge.

THE SHADOW DEEPENS

A year and a half ago we wrote an editorial entitled "Let Us Take Stock of the Shadow". The editorial dealt with the danger of the Canadian newspapers becoming controlled by a few magnates such as has overtaken the once free press of Great Britain.

We pointed out that there were about 100 daily newspapers and rather more than 800 weekly newspapers in Canada. A year and a half ago we indicated that one Ontario newspaper owner controlled ten daily and weekly newspapers. Today that newspaper owner has expanded his control to 15 newspapers.

What is happening in Ontario is happening elsewhere in Canada. That is what we mean by the title of this editorial: "The Shadow Deepens". It is no less than the shadow of newspaper chains. Newspaper chains or, in other words, control of a large and expanding group of newspapers by a single owner, is a menace to freedom of opinion and expression.

Such control is almost complete in Britain where half a dozen owners are in possession of virtually all of Britain's newspapers. Those owners are: Lords Beaverbrook, Rothermere, Kemsley, Camrose, Iliffe (the last three are brothers) and the Odham's Press, which owns the labor Daily Herald, with its two million daily circulation.

It is bad for any country to have its newspapers controlled by a few men. The exercise of such control means that only such editorial and other opinions as are acceptable to the "Big Bosses" are allowed into the newspapers they own. Criticisms of their policies are taboo.

When dictators arise, as in the instances of Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin, Franco and Peron, they suppress free newspapers. When the free press of any country disappears, tyranny in some form or another takes its place.

AURORA NOTES

Oh! My Aching Back!

We hail all men with aching backs! Brothers in distress. We are all helpers in the working of miracles. For the age of miracles is not past. So long as a small wrinkled seed is put in the brown earth and presently emerges as a green tip of growth, eventually to grow and blossom and later still to be gathered for a luscious feast of garden peas, the age of miracles will never pass.

Man puts the wrinkled seed in the tilled earth; God and nature perform the miracle.

Three rows of peas are now looking good, making growth in our small patch of cultivated earth. We do not know, and can never know, how that tiny wrinkled seed began to take life and make its journey to the sun. This is but one of the infinite miracles that surround our mundane activities, while the little wren and the pompous robin warble their thanks to their Creator.

We notice, too, that the little humming bird is back. But he floats from flower to flower, seemingly having a preference for the bright tulip bed, whose pendulous blooms glow in the bright sun. Presently, we suppose, he will marry and be as proud of his progeny as the Maharajah of his sons. This mating business appears to be as inevitable with humming birds as it is with men.

The humming bird gives us pleasure; but hummers among the humans we simply cannot abide. A humming woman is a distraction, inflicting varying degrees of pain bordering on sheer agony; but a man who hums is to us an aberration. Humming is a habit, and unfortunately those addicted to it become insensible to it.

Let us forget the hummers and get back to the garden. We got an aching back through toil on a stubborn soil, turned into a surface resembling cement as a result of baking suns that came after too much April rain. We went on too long, determined on getting a job done too quickly.

How often have we warned others against this very evil, of over-doing it. The warning we have given to others we did not ourselves heed. But we shall go back to have more of the dog that bit us. There is a stubborn piece of earth still to humor into condition of receptivity. We dig with a fork, not a spade. And we push the fork down to its utmost capacity, not as we have seen others do, merely tickling the surface.

Looking around, we are not displeased with our labors so far. Besides the peas of which we have boasted, a row of wax beans are just emerging towards the warmth of the sun. Too early the experts may warn us. Well, we have taken a chance. Should the frosts nip our efforts out, we shall sow (or is it plant?) again, and in doing so recall the lines of Burns: "The best laid schemes of mice and men gang aft a-gley."

Then a week ago we planted a row of corn, and behold! the Great Architect of the Universe touched it with His creative spell and a few shoots are already showing. We just took a chance.

Horse Show, Pageant Major Coming Events

During the next few days the town of Aurora will be in gala mood as its citizens take part in two events of outstanding interest, to which a real Canadian welcome will be given to its many visitors from far and near.

The first of these is the Horse Show in the town park on Saturday, June 9, where a long list of attractions has been prepared for the enjoyment of people of all ages.

The second of these is the Fire Brigade pageant on Wednesday night, June 13, when a monster parade will commence on Yonge Street at 6:30 p.m. A $15,000 new fire truck will be on view.

There will be games and dances in the town park following the parade, and numerous prizes will be awarded.

Fuller details of these highlighting events will be found in our advertisement pages.

Vote Confidence In Murray When Bell Queries Spending Without Council's Approval

A regular meeting of the Aurora town council was held in the municipal chambers on Monday night when there were present Mayor Bell, Reeve Cook, Deputy-Reeve Murray, Councillor Corbett, Davies, Fielding, Gundy, Jones and Pringle. Also present town clerk Harnold N. Clark, assistant town clerk K. G. Moses and town solicitor Lorne C. Lee.

Following the presentation of accounts and correspondence, the owner of the Graysstones enquired from council on the possibility of getting early action on the removal of trees and the improvement of that section of the frontage owned by the town. The owner expressed his readiness to bear some part of the cost in an effort to expedite action.

This matter was discussed at a later stage of council proceedings, when, on a motion by Councillor Gundy, seconded by Councillor Davies, it was resolved to tender for the completion of the work at a cost not in excess of $100.

Deputy-Reeve and Mayor

Following a report from the chairman of the streets committee (Murray, Gundy and Davies) Deputy-Reeve Murray, and an account for the purchase of gravel and oil, the Mayor challenged the right of the committee to incur expenses beyond the sum of $25, as per the appropriate by-law.

The Deputy-Reeve, expressing surprise at the Mayor's attitude, which, Mr. Murray stated, was contrary to all past council procedure, said that both gravel and oil were necessary to put the roads in condition at this time of year. His committee had acted in the best interests of the town, and he failed to appreciate the Mayor's objections.

The Mayor insisted that, according to by-law, the purchases were not in order, and that sanction of council should have preceded the action of the committee.

Mr. Murray emphasized that the re-conditioning of the town roads was an absolute necessity at this time of year. If he had acted contrary to usage, and the Mayor was not satisfied, the Deputy-Reeve stated that he would resign immediately.

Vote of Confidence

Councillor Davies said he failed to understand what the mayor was getting at. Such action on the part of the streets committees had not been questioned in past years. What were the objections now?

The Mayor reiterated that according to by-law the streets committee had acted improperly. Councillor Pringle said that they had to use common sense in the matter. Gravel and oil were needed for the roads, and it was a matter of timing.

The Deputy-Reeve said he would ask for a vote of council. The Mayor having put the matter to council, all members, excluding the Mayor, voted for the payment of the account.

Parks, and More Parks

Reeve Cook presented a report in which the condition of creeks was a feature, together with a suggested appropriation of land for a parking site on the west side of Yonge street. Other features of the report concerned the present state of the town parks and the question of the Cousins' offer of land, already fully discussed.

Councillor Jones took a strong line in regard to the Cousins' offer. He said that at the present time council was entirely without information on the restrictions involved in any acceptance of the offer. "The town," said Councillor Jones, "should know exactly where it stood in this matter."

The Deputy-Reeve said the whole matter had been fully discussed two years ago. They were just going over old ground.

Councillor Gundy said that the committee had better bring in a recommendation and council could then vote on it.

Councillor Davies then introduced the further offer of the purchase of 17 acres, more or less, at the south end of the town, for the purposes of a park. He recommended that an offer of $10,000 be made, as against the $12,000 asked for by the owner. $2,500 would be available from the board of trade; the same amount from the agricultural society; and there would be a provincial grant.

Opposed to Purchase

Councillor Corbett said he considered the price asked for was far too high. He was definitely opposed to the proposed purchase. To get to such an out of the way park they would have to run buses.

The Mayor said they probably would run buses. Reeve Cook was of the opinion that council would be very near-sighted if they turned down the offer. He supported the proposal to purchase.

Councillor Fielding said she was definitely opposed to purchase of the land. Mrs. Fielding said that not only could council not afford the money, but they couldn't look after the parks they now had. "Many of them resemble garbage heaps," said Mrs. Fielding.

The discussion terminated on a suggestion that the board of trade and the agricultural society submit their offers in writing.

The Linton Land

Although a sort of ultimatum had been proclaimed that the Linton land matter must be settled, one way or another, by June 12, no action was decided by council.

Councillor Gundy once more rose, this time to state that he did not propose to make a speech. Instead, he requested the town clerk to bring out the planning board's report on the matter, read to council at its meeting on May 7, reported in our "Council Sidelights" of May 17.

After some nebulous comment, the Linton land matter appeared to dissolve into a state of airy nothingness, probably to be revived again at a later date.

Meters?

A brief reference to the meter problem emerged towards the close of the session with the Deputy-Reeve stating that he was not opposed to meters, but considered that off-street parking should have prior consideration.

Councillor Gundy said he was firmly convinced of the value of meters.

On a motion by Councillor Gundy, seconded by Councillor Davies, it was resolved that the meter question be placed in the hands of the police committee for a report to be presented at next meeting of council.

Other Business

Council agreed that Mr. John Waller be granted the soldier's lot, turned back to the town by W. Langman, at the nominal fee

Frightened Into Fibbing

Janet, eight, was frightened into telling her first real fib. Prior to this experience, Janet had never really fibbed. She had imagined events and told little stories as such; but she had never, never told a story for the truth until she was frightened into doing just that.

Janet had been visiting a lady one morning. She had had her usual quota of freshly baked cookies and was trailing her favorite lady around the house during the process of household chores when her mother called for her to come home.

The neighbor-lady was upstairs when Janet left, but she saw her slip a cookie in her pocket as she went out the back door. In a flash an upstairs window opened and the surprise question was asked Janet.

"Did you take a cookie, Janet?"

Janet was startled and frightened. She couldn't help herself.

DOLLY MORNING WEDS W. HUGHSON

Christ church, Holland Landing, decorated with spring flowers, ferns and standards of candles was the setting for the marriage, May 26, of Elizabeth (Dolly), daughter of Mr. R. C. Morning, Holland Landing, and the late Mrs. Morning, and Mr. Wallace Edward Hughson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hughson, Newmarket.

Rev. H. G. Blake officiated. Mr. Gordon James, Bradford, was organist and Mr. A. R. McCannan, Patchogue, N.Y., sang Because and The Lord's Prayer, and the church choir sang Oh Perfect Love.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Paris fashioned gown of white net and chantilly lace, falling into a cathedral train and her floor length veil was caught to a coronet of calla lilies to match her bouquet of calla lilies and stephanotis. She wore a pearl sunburst.

Miss Doreen Morning, maid of honor, wore blue, the bridesmaids, Miss Virginia - VanSant, green, Miss Eleanor Hughson, orchid. The gowns were net over taffeta with bustles and strapless bodices. Their little chantilly lace jackets had stand-up tulip collars. Their picture frame hats matched their gowns and they carried matching bouquets and white French lilies.

Miss Gail McKenzie, junior bridesmaid, in yellow and Miss Beverly Morning, flower girl, in pink, wore gowns of net over taffeta and matching bonnets. Peter Goodwin was ring bearer. Mr. Carl Codlin was best man and ushers were Messrs. Fred and Alex Morning.

The reception was held at the Holland Landing Memorial Hall, where Mrs. Stanley Morning, aunt of the bride, received in a floor-length gown of pale blue crepe and chantilly lace, white accessories and corsage of pink roses and stephanotis, assisted by the groom's mother in a grey crepe and chantilly lace floor-length gown with black accessories and corsage of red roses and stephanotis.

For travelling to Banff, Vancouver and Victoria, the bride chose a grey worsted suit with matching hat, green snakeskin purse and shoes and matching alligator luggage. Her corsage was a green orchid and lily-of-the-valley. On their return they will reside at 78 Hubbard Ave., Toronto. Guests were present from Patchogue, N.Y., St. John, Que., Thamesville, Beechville, Orillia, Ingersoll, Toronto and Aurora.

The Canadian grape crop is produced almost entirely in Ontario where the wine industry is centred.

Fashions For Christians Topic At W. A. Meeting

Fashions in Christian living was the subject of an address by Mrs. C. J. Clode, president of Toronto Centre Presbytery Woman's Auxiliary of the United Church, to a gathering of 90 in the King church, May 29, when the local auxiliary held the monthly meeting. Guests were Teston, Temperanceville and Kettleby organizations and those of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Anglican churches.

Mrs. Austin Rumble, local president, warmly welcomed the assembly. Mrs. Allan Gellatly gave the Scripture entitled the sower, from St. Mark 4, verses 1 - 10, wherein the different types of soil were explained. "Some soils in nature cannot be cultivated but human soil is never completely bereft," said Mrs. Gellatly who also led in prayer.

Mrs. Clode was introduced by Mrs. M. R. Jenkinson, a newcomer to auxiliaries, as the new president of the presbytery.

The speaker who is the essence of character and charm, spoke to an attentive audience. "The Christian woman is a fashion model in a spiritual way. She embodies God-given assets for expression of every-day Christian living," Mrs. Clode stated, referring to current spring fashion parades, of interest to many women. The model of the fashion show is admired for her superb physical beauty, the attractive apparel she wears and her gracious demeanor. As such, she "must work hard to maintain a high standard of living," stated Mrs. Clode.

The first requisite of the Christian model is cleanliness of mind, word and speech; the mind that harbors no resentment, discontent or envy; that flows clean and pure through gracious channels. It is cleanliness of word and speech tempered with kindness and tolerance and activated by prayer, she said.

The second requirement is charm that emanates calmness and serenity of a life with God.

CHAPTER HONORS GRAND CHAPLAIN

On Saturday evening, May 26, Keswick Community Centre was the scene of a happy event when Simcoe Chapter O.E.S. entertained nearly 300 members and guests at a reception in honor of Mrs. Coulson Cameron, Grand Chaplain of the Order of the Eastern Star in Ontario.

Mrs. Cameron, accompanied by her husband and daughters, passed through a guard of honor formed by Past Matrons and Past Patrons of Simcoe Chapter. Mrs. Willard Cole, chaplain of Simcoe Chapter, gave the official welcome to the guest of honor in which she paid glowing tribute to Mrs. Cameron as a member of the Order and to her important office.

The Grand Chaplain was then welcomed by the Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron and seated on the platform with other grand officers.

There followed a program of brief addresses by distinguished guests and several numbers by Mrs. Walter Hirst, elocutionist, and Mr. Terry Doan, soloist. As a token of their esteem, the Chapter presented Mrs. Cameron with a beautiful coffee table and she also received many other beautiful gifts from friends and family. Mrs. Cameron thanked the assembly for the gifts and for the honor conferred on her and spoke feelingly of the wonderful friendships and associations into which her work in the Order had drawn her.

After a bountiful buffet luncheon had been served the evening ended with a short period of dancing.

News Of The W.I.

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

Snowball branch met at the United church Wednesday afternoon to celebrate the 25th anniversary. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. H. Patrick, with the Ode followed by the Mary Stewart collect. Mrs. C. Copson then sang "Bless this House" and "Long, Long Ago."

Mrs. H. Patrick and Mrs. N. Mitchell presented Mrs. Wm. Storey with a life membership and pin in recognition of her part in assembling the meeting 25 years ago. Mrs. Steeper and Mrs. Charles who helped organize the branch were honored guests. Mrs. E. Copson then read a paper on 25 years of achievements. The past presidents, led by Mrs. Bertha Cull, each remembered incidents of the time they held office. Mrs. Ed Reddick reviewed each anniversary that had been celebrated. The remembrance roll was read by Mrs. Mills, followed by a minute of silence and prayer by Rev. D. G. Ray. An interlude of music was then enjoyed by all.

A piano and violin duet was played by Miss Sandra Harding and Cora Morning. Sheila Davidson and Lois Farren each played a piano solo. Pictures were then taken of all members and guests.

All then were served a lovely luncheon. The head table was centred with a three-tier anniversary cake which was cut by Mrs. Charles after she had been presented with a lovely corsage by Mrs. Patrick. The other tables were beautifully decorated with flowers of blue and gold. After a sumptuous lunch Mrs. Baycroft, Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Corner, Mrs. Marchant, Mrs. Armstrong, and Mrs. Boyd were all called on to say a few words. The meeting was then called to a close.

Dates to remember, anniversary tea at Mrs. Chas. Williams', June 20; Historical picnic at Sharon Temple June 16; Kettleby tea and bazaar, at the home of Mrs. Scott, June 27; Aurora W.I. 40th anniversary June 28; picnic at Musselman's Lake, July 10.

In place of the regular June meeting of Sharon branch, a basket picnic will be held at the Sharon Temple grounds Saturday, June 16, in conjunction with other York County Women's Institutes and York Pioneer and Historical Society. At that time the York Pioneer and Historical Society will officially welcome the Women's Institutes into their organization. An interesting program commencing at 2 p.m. has been arranged. Speakers of special interest will be Mrs. R. G. Purcell, president of Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario; Mrs. F. E. Davis, representing the Women's Institutes of England and Wales, and Miss Anna Templeton, head of the Jubilee Guilds for Newfoundland. Members are asked to bring along their own cups.

The Queensville branch met on May 30 at the home of Mrs.

L. Wellman with the president, Mrs. F. Weddel, in the chair. Following the Opening Ode the Mary Stewart Collect was recited. Installation of the new officers was held, Mrs. Geo. Pearson presiding.

The financial statement was read and accepted. The report of the last euche was given. Proceeds were $29.

It was decided to buy some vases and also pay our share of the drapes for York County hospital.

The quilt made by members of our branch and shown at the District Annual was on display. Mrs. F. Kavanagh, Mrs. A. J. Milne and Mrs. J. B. Aylward were appointed to look after making tickets for the sale of the quilt.

A special invitation is extended to every Institute member to attend the first annual combined picnic of York Pioneers Historical Society and York County Women's Institute at Sharon temple on Saturday, June 16, at 2 p.m. This is a basket picnic, table and hot water provided.

Mrs. J. L. Smith gave a splendid report of her trip to Guelph. Much useful information was given.

The demonstration of correct table setting by Mrs. C. Weston was enjoyed by all present.

A fine report of the district annual was given by Miss F. Cranley.

Following the singing of God Save the King, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. Cunningham, Mrs. F. Milne and Miss F. Cranley.

The meeting of the Lakeside branch was held in the new Community Centre on May 29 with the new president, Mrs. P. W. Mahoney, in the chair. After the business was attended to the meeting was turned over to Mrs. George White, who had attended the lecture "Aid to effective speaking". She gave us the highlights of the course and then called upon various members to demonstrate their ability to speak in public.

With charts, giving the outline of the general speech, members were called upon to speak on: cats, bats, rats; address of welcome to a visiting Institute; reply to address; introducing a speaker; proposal of a toast; reply to toast; presentation of farewell gift; reply to presentation, and several other topics.

It was most informative and amusing.

Miss Eva Gilroy read an interesting article on "tension", especially how it shows in the expression. The roll call was "The most interesting place I had visited". For the June meeting, we are anticipating visits from Union Street and Elmhurst Institutes. The Lakeside group have changed their meetings to the evenings to enable mothers of young children to attend.

The meeting closed after a contest, and we all express our appreciation to Mrs. White for an outstanding and unique program.

Census National 'Pulse Taking'

"This is census year and as members of the Home and School Association we have been asked to keep ourselves informed about some of the details," said Mrs. C. R. Blackstock, citizenship convener of the Newmarket Home and School Association, at the group's annual meeting on May 22. Held at the Prince Charles school, the meeting was chaired by Mrs. Howard Morton.

"The census is nothing new. It goes back 5,000 years in Babylon and China and three to 4,000 years in Egypt and among the children of Israel. So, no one in Canada needs to feel upset because a man or woman calls at the house asking questions."

"Census facts are not public property. In Canada, the answers given by individuals to census questions are absolutely confidential. Every employee of the census is bound by a special oath and penalty against divulging any fact whatsoever that may have been learned through the census. Census information obtained from or about you may not be used for taxation or military purposes."

"Everyone is assigned to the locality in which he or she is regularly domiciled, and not merely counted in the place where found. This is important, because it affects parliamentary representation, provincial subsidies and is necessary to many government bodies in planning housing, public health and transportation needs."

"To mention only one or two of the many uses of the census, the biggest practical use of the census figures is constitutional and legal. The census is taken periodically with the prime purpose of determining our representation in the federal government."

"The census cannot make a detailed examination into the skill of every Canadian, but it gives much that is useful. It tells for each part of the country the number of doctors and nurses, carpenters and electricians, housemaids and stenographers, with information about each occupation on age, education, language spoken. The census is a unique record of our manpower and skills."

"The census will give business people a better opportunity to increase the efficiency with which they plan, sell, market and advertise. The census can be of service to all kinds of persons, from youths leaving school to employers seeking work people. It tells how many persons there are in Canada skilled in trades, professions and arts. It tells what the earnings from wages and salaries are in these pursuits, what the state of employment is, both to immediate vacancies and the long-term trend. It indicates the ages of people in each line of work and what level of earning they have reached at various ages."

"Age is important. To mention only one of several needs for knowing the age—it is necessary to know the ages of people so as to calculate the future population possibilities of the land."

"There are two main duties for the census department to perform. One duty is to collect the information and the other is to compile it into reports. The collecting is done by census commissioners—one for each electoral district and about 18,000 enumerators are hired under the direction of these commissioners."

"Last census the enumerators carried around forms two feet, four inches wide. This year they will have forms about seven inches square. These are called 'mark-sense' forms. The enumerator makes a mark in the right space instead of writing your answer in full. He uses an electrographic pen. Then, instead of transcribing the information laboriously by hand, the census people will feed the cards into a machine. Wherever the spec-

Presentation To School Inspector

A presentation was made to Charles Howitt, Islington, on behalf of King Township teachers, school boards and the municipal council at a banquet meeting of the Teachers' Association at Ridge Inn, Oak Ridges last Friday evening. Mr. Howitt will give up King township and rural schools of Vaughan, part of his public school inspectorate but will retain urban Weston, Swanton, and the Lakeshore schools.

Serving this municipality for seven years his departure is greatly regretted by teachers and school boards alike. To give tangible expression to the appreciation felt for the inspector's untiring efforts and his personal interest for what he so often termed "his family of teachers and schools", a set of handsome lawn furniture of chrome, blue trim, chair, chaise longue and coffee table made a surprise gift. Mrs. Howitt was presented with a vase of roses.

Upon receiving the gifts, Mr. Howitt was at a "loss for words" to convey thanks to his friends, speaking of the fine co-operation extended during his inspectorship. Mr. Bob Carson, association president, was chairman. The presentation feature was organized and arranged by Mrs. Marguerite Gellatly, Miss Evelyn Courtney and Miss Marion O'Neill.

Miss Gordon, supervisor of Remedial Reading for Lakeshore schools was the guest speaker of the association.

Canvass to Aid County Hospital

Under the auspices of King W.I., several ladies conducted a canvass during the weekend in aid of the York County Hospital Aid. They are, Mrs. G. Walker, Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, Mrs. A. E. Kelley, Mrs. L. R. Shropshire, Mrs. T. L. Williams and Miss Lily Anderson. The response has been very good they say, although not all of the district was completed at the fore part of this week. Mrs. C. Edwards, Newmarket, convener of the Aid tag day project, has commended the branch at King in adopting a house-to-house canvass in preference to a tag day, said Mrs. Ivan Specht, who with Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Roy Hollinshead represent the W.I. on the Aid.

W.I. County Home Project

Mrs. Ivan Specht has been informed that a citizen of Elgin Mills is donating several pieces of furniture to the women's sitting room of York County Home for the Aged, because of her sympathy in the "worthwhile project" of adding extra furnishings and appointments of the Home, a special field work of King W.I. Mrs. Specht and Mrs. Williams hung two pairs of full length window drapes in the sitting room last week. There is enough remaining material to fit the casement windows of the dining room. Of plastic material in shades of restful green, they are sceneed with landscape views of the rural variety. Mrs. Specht and Mrs. Williams put up the sitting room hangings last week.

Attend Hospital Aid Tea

When it is recalled that last summer King W.I. raised over $400 toward York County Hospital Aid, it is little wonder that not only W.I. members but many others are interested in assisting the hospital women's auxiliary. This amount of money from one organization was unique at that time. It was used to purchase the "King" Nursery Canopy for the hospital. Present at the Aid tea held at the home of Mrs. Crawford Rose, Aurora, were Mrs. C. H. Stewart, Mrs. J. L. Grew, Mrs. Wm. Parker, Mrs. A. J. Gordon, Mrs. Aubrey Campbell, Mrs. Archie Campbell, Mrs. Roy Hollinshead and Miss Kay Clark.

Mrs. Elizabeth Follitt of Eversley left on Saturday for an extended visit with her son William, living in Cincinnati. He is a chartered accountant, holding an executive position with the Procter and Gamble Co. in that city. Mrs. Follitt will remain two months.

The car is a draw prize in connection with the annual carnival and dance being sponsored by Lake Marie and King Athletic Association on Wednesday, July 18, to be held in King Memorial Park.

Miss Julia Bell is giving assistance at McLeod's Bakery during her spare time.

Messrs. A. E. Kelley, M. H. Bell, Randolph Lockhart with two Toronto gentlemen took a weekend fishing trip to East River, Collingwood district.

Mrs. Margaret Rice, Waterford, spent the weekend with her daughter, Mrs. Ivan Specht, returning on Monday taking with her Dorothy Specht, a granddaughter, who will visit Mrs. Rice for a couple of weeks.

Sunday guests of Mrs. T. L. Williams were her brother, Mr. Duncan Sinclair, and wife, their daughter, Murray Sinclair, his wife, Jean, and children, Marilyn and Linda, all of Lindsay.

Miss Marie Ball, Eversley, who has completed a nine months' course in nursing education at the University of Toronto, and has become a member of the staff of St. Joseph's hospital school of nursing from which she was graduated with a scholarship last June. The course gives her a teacher's standing. For a month she will receive orientation there. One of the interesting phases of the studies at the university was a week end at Windsor to see the demonstration of the nursing school of the Metropolitan hospital there. With others of her class, Miss Ball taught undergraduates and first aid work in Toronto schools.

Mrs. Harvey Follitt is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Norman MacMurchy, Weston, for a week while her daughter, Mrs. W. Parker, on the staff of Humber Memorial hospital, Weston, has vacation at King.

Mrs. C. J. Clode, Toronto, was a supper guest of Mrs. Austin Rumble last week when she addressed women's groups in King United church. Mrs. Geo. Harvey motored to Toronto to bring the speaker to King. She and Mrs. Bruce Hall drove Mrs. Clode home after the meeting.

Bowman, Maple, who retired as vice president of the section before the New Year, was presented with a gift from the auxiliaries. She had been co-worker with Mrs. Williams who now has the responsibility of the district. Representing Eversley and Strange societies were Mrs. Fred Curtis, Miss Jessie Gellatly, Miss Alice Ferguson, Mrs. Jas. Brown, Mrs. J. Phillips, Mrs. C. A. Black, Mrs. Jas. Ball, Mrs. L. J. Cadet Officer Peter Jarvis, with the Armored Corps at Camp Borden, arrived home Sunday on his first weekend leave. He finds training interesting but fairly rugged. Peter hitchhiked back to quarters on Monday. The course will take him through the summer when he will resume his second year pass arts term at Trinity College, University of Toronto.
